

Digitalization of Visual Acuity Testing

Svante Nilsson
Christian Johansson
Anders Ohlsson

Abstract

Digitalization of Visual Acuity Testing is a project involving development of a method for digitalization the displaying of optician's eye charts. Using a Raspberry Pi, an Android tablet device and network communication over WiFi we have created a system for displaying these charts on a screen. This system will be used as a prototype for possible future work.