Attachement to report draft

Anders Ohlsso, Christian Johanssonn, Svante Nilsson

April 7, 2015

1   Schedule

See attached Gantt diagram. We intend to work the full 40h per week, working from home and planning regular meetings.

There are several milestones we must reach in this project:

- A functional GUI for the Android app

- A functional system for displaying onto the screen

- Networking established between the Android tablet and the RaspberryPi

- The finished minimum product

- The finished poster for the report

- The finished presentation for the report

- The finished report

2   Course Goals

We feel our project matches the course goals by incorporating knowledge from our courses in Operating Systems, Imperative and Object-oriented Programming Methodology, Human-Computer Interaction and Computer Networks. We are also showing advancements in these fields through this project by working with an actual client, designing systems to be used by several people professionally, and working with new tools for a tablet environment.
